6th Annual Musical Tribute honors veterans, active servicemen

Saturday's memorial tribute to our veterans was well attended. As always the Bracken County Alumni and Community Band did a wonderful job of entertaining the crowd while honoring our veterans and active servicemen and women with traditional patriotic music. This year's crowd enjoyed the vocal talents of Phyllis Holleran who performed "For Freedom" and "Wind Beneath My Wings". Louise Moneyhon again spoke on the History of Taps. Jenny Ray can be seen above directing the band as members of the VFW Post 9535 listen. This year's concert was very well attended and enjoyed by all. Members of the audience said they looked forward to next year's concert and intended to invite others to join them for the delightful event aimed at honoring and showing respect to our service men and women who have served, given their all, and those who continue to serve today. Courthouse holds successful annual cook-out for charities

Offices of the Bracken County Courthouse held their annual cook-out on the May Primary election day, Tuesday, May 20th. Elected officials and their employees spent lunchtime grilling hamburgers, hotdogs, pork tenderloins, and chicken to the delight of those who stopped by for lunch. Homemade coney sauce, desserts, chips and drinks were also enjoyed. Each year the cookout is held as a benefit to provide needed funds to different local organizations.

This year the $1,500 raised will be split equally between the Bracken County Cancer Support Group, Shop With a Cop, and the Bracken County Special Needs Support Group (formerly known as the Bracken County Autism Support Group). Each organization provides needed help to many in our community. The Cancer Support Group provides gas cards to those cancer patients travelling to doctors' appointments and treatments. The Shop With A Cop program takes several youth shopping at Christmas allowing them to receive gifts they might not otherwise receive at Christmas. The Bracken County Special Needs Support Group gives parents of children with Autism, Down Syndrome, and other developmental delays help with understanding their disorder. If you could not attend the cook-out but would like to donate, contact Tracey Florer, PVA, at 606-735-2228.

PrimaryPlus-Bracken County recognized as Patient-Centered Medical Home

Over the course of the last six months, the PrimaryPlus team at the Bracken County office set a goal to achieve national recognition as a patient-centered medical home. In mid-May, the non-profit federally qualified health center received recognition, proving that their diligent work had paid off. The site has been awarded recognition from the Patient-Centered Medical Home 2011 (PMCH 2011) program by the National Committee for Quality Assurance (NCQA). There are three levels to the PCMH program and PrimaryPlus-Bracken County earned the highest of honors being granted a LEVEL III facility which is quite an accomplishment.

“The NCQA Patient-Centered Medical Home is a model of 21st century primary care that combines access, teamwork, and technology to deliver quality care and improve health,” said NCQA President Margaret E. O’Kane. “NCAQ’s PCMH 2011 Recognition shows that PrimaryPlus-Bracken County has the tools, systems, and resources to provide their patients with the right care at the right time.”

The medical home sets the bar in defining high-quality care by emphasizing increased access to healthcare, effective use of health information technology, improving communication, and building partnerships between clinicians and patients. PrimaryPlus’ goal was to make the transition into the PCMH model a seamless process for the patients and to emphasize the concept of creating an “old style” family doctor experience while integrating the use of modern technology to provide the best possible care. One of the additions to increase access to care is a patient portal called PrimePatient. Patients of PrimaryPlus can safely and securely become registered users of the portal giving them 24/7 access to making appointments, asking questions to the PrimaryPlus medical team, making online payments, viewing summaries of their most recent visit, etc. PrimaryPlus’ patient portal can easily be accessed by visiting www.primary-plus.net.

“We are so proud of our PrimaryPlus-Bracken team for their achievement. Each member played a significant role in meeting this goal and together they set a STRONG STANDARD for our other office locations by earning recognition as a Level III PCMH—top honors. We appreciate their willingness and dedication on this journey for the betterment of our patient’s healthcare and for healthier communities,” states Jerry Ugrin, CEO of PrimaryPlus.

The PrimaryPlus-Bracken County team associated with the PMCH recognition includes Steve Neus, MD; James Morris, MD; Harold Markesbery, MD; Thomas Meyers, MD; Nina Gray, MD; Denise Gore, APRN; Tonia Jones, APRN (Pediatrics); Tara Jefferson; Kathy Bishop; Amy Bradford; Brandi Grosser; Tammy Woods; Shandra Logan; Crystal Baker; Kendra Blair; Heide Vest; Jimmy Gilvin; Joyce Hamilton; Lynn Mitchell; Denise Jolly; Chasity Saunders; Leigh Ann Preston; Lisa Liles and Kathy Collier.

PrimaryPlus is proud to now have two NCQA recognized PCMH offices-PrimaryPlus-Bracken & PrimaryPlus-Maysville. The PrimaryPlus-Maysville Family Health office earned PCMH status in December of 2013. NCQA is a private, non-profit organization dedicated to improving healthcare quality. NCQA accredits and certifies a wide range of healthcare organizations. It also recognizes clinicians and practices in key areas of performance. NCQA is committed to providing health care quality information for consumers, purchasers, health care providers, and researchers. The PCMH recognition by NCQA is valid for three years for the Bracken County office and each medical provider associated with the organization will be listed on the NCQA website to showcase their recognition. PrimaryPlus-Vanceburg is the next location of the federally qualified health center organization to begin its quest to become a patient-centered medical home. To learn more about PrimaryPlus and its mission of quality, advanced, affordable healthcare visit www.primaryplus.net or visit them on Facebook at facebook.com/PrimaryPlus2.

HMH receives Kentucky Hospital Association Quality Award

Harrison Memorial Hospital (HMH) was recognized and honored with the 2014 Kentucky Hospital Association (KHA) Quality Award. The award is presented to recognize hospital leadership and innovation in quality, safety and commitment in patient care. The facility received the award at the annual awards luncheon held during the 85th KHA Convention on May 9.

HMH was one of six hospitals recognized overall and received the award in the under 100 beds category. These six hospitals demonstrated not only a dedication to patient safety, but their persistence to going above and beyond what is expected for providing quality care.

HMH’s application focused mainly on the reducing re-admissions program, which is intended to help identify patients who may require more assistance within the first 30 days of discharge from a hospital stay, thereby reducing the potential that the patient will have to be re-admitted to a hospital within 30 days. To assist patients and families after discharge, the project to reduce re-admissions focuses the clinical staff on discharge teaching to patients and families and involves outside resources, like home health services and hospice services, earlier in the process for individuals who were at high risk for re-admissions.

“I was delighted that the KHA selected HMH for this honor. We challenge ourselves every day to be better at all we do, to improve our care and service to those we serve and so, when we are recognized for our efforts, it is a nice validation,” says Sheila Currans, HMH Chief Executive Officer. “At the end of the day, it is more important to me that we keep our eye on what is most important, and that is the pa-

Through its quality award, KHA seeks to:

- Raise awareness of the need for an organization-wide commitment to highly reliable, exceptional quality, patient-centered care;
- Reward successful efforts to develop and promote a systems-based approach toward improvements in quality of care;
- Inspire organizations to systematically integrate and align their quality improvement efforts throughout the organization;
- Communicate successful programs and strategies to the hospital field; and
- Facilitate Kentucky hospitals’ alignment of quality initiatives with national initiatives.

THE LINE SEPARATING GOOD FROM EVIL

The Russian writer and dissident Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn very astutely remarked that "the line dividing good and evil cuts through the heart of every human being." All of us have the capacity for both good and evil within us and every day is a struggle to help the "better angels" prevail. Perhaps what separates the saints from the sinners is not so much that some sin and others don't, but that the saints recognize their sinful nature and are better at resisting their sinful impulses. The essential work of our lives is to know that this line is there and to stay on the side of the good, resisting the never-ending lure and temptation of evil. We should pray for the wisdom and discernment to recognize where the line separating good from evil runs, and for the goodwill and fortitude to stay on the side of the good. - Christopher Simon

Plans are continuing for the upcoming 100th Anniversary Celebration and Ice Cream Social for the weekend of July 25, 26 and 27. Parishioners are asked for donations of pop and bottled water that can be dropped off at the Parish Hall and are reminded to look around for items to be donated to the Country Store or for the Silent Auction. Sign-up sheets for kitchen workers will soon be available and we will need the help, support and cooperation of all members to make this a most successful event! Because many of our activities will take place outdoors, we ask that you continue to pray for good weather! May God bless our endeavors!

St. Augustine Parish Finds Success with BINGO!

In an effort to raise money for the school and church, St. Augustine Parish is holding BINGO in their school cafeteria on the first Sunday of every month. These events will help with operating expenses for St. Augustine Church. Additional funds raised will also be used to help St. Augustine School.

Jason Snapp, the volunteer BINGO chairman, said "so far, we have had a lot of fun! Everyone that comes to play leaves with a smile on their face. Every little bit helps and we're hoping to raise enough money to support our school through programs such as the 'Fr. Daniel Sanner Scholarship Fund' which offers tuition assistance to families that would not be able to receive a Christian education otherwise. We truly appreciate the support of our community and look forward to our upcoming BINGO events."

The next BINGO will be held June 1st and all upcoming BINGO events will be held on the first Sunday of every month from 1:00pm to 5:00pm. Concessions are available so no food or drinks may be brought inside. Door prizes, pull tabs and a "pickle jar" will also be available for those interested. Participants must be at least 18 years old. All proceeds benefit St. Augustine School and Church.

BINGO

KY Labor Cabinet to All Employers: We Provide Required Posters for Free

Private companies are charging for posters that are available for free from the Kentucky Labor Cabinet. The Kentucky Labor Cabinet reminds all employers in the Commonwealth that required labor law posters are available for free at its website, www.labor.ky.gov. Private companies are sending notices that offer to sell these posters to businesses.

"Business owners in Kentucky need to know that they can get these posters at no cost by going to our website," said Kentucky Labor Cabinet Secretary Larry Roberts. "They don't have to buy them from third party sources. These required posters are available on our website so that anyone can download them for free."

Employers failing to post required posters may be subject to citations and penalties, but letters sent to Kentucky businesses have threatened civil and criminal penalties up to $17,000 if they do not display certain posters being sold. Some employers may be misled into believing that these notices are official government warnings. While certain posters are required by law to be posted in the workplace, the Kentucky Labor Cabinet, as well as other Kentucky agencies and the U.S. Department of Labor, provides these posters free of charge.

"My office investigates and takes action to halt misleading and deceptive advertising practices," said Kentucky Attorney General Jack Conway. "I want to ensure that employers don't fall victim to false and misguided information. If business owners receive a notice from a private company requesting payment for these posters, I encourage them to contact

Howdy Folks! Because of the Memorial Day Holiday, this article is being written the week before in order for the gals at the Bracken County News Office to have a day off! We appreciate their hard work and dedication to reporting Bracken County news on a weekly basis and hope that they enjoy their short break!

While Bracken County will not be having a Tire Amnesty for another two years, counties close to us will host theirs. May 29, 30 & 31 are the dates for the Kenton County Amnesty; Boone County's Amnesty is June 12, 13 & 14; Pendleton County will be accepting tires on June 19, 20 & 21 and Grant County's Amnesty is June 26, 27 & 28. Any Kentucky resident can participate in any state sponsored tire amnesty with the exception of tire retailers and dealers.

A recent question about used motor oil sent us on a telephone excursion to find some outlets for this product. In Mason County we contacted the following businesses with our questions. Advance Auto Parts does accept used motor oil for recycling and generally speaking there is no limit to the amount that you can bring in and none of the companies want water in the oil. Auto Zone accepts used oil but has a limit of five gallons per customer per day. Hauke's Auto Care LLC uses the motor oil as fuel for their furnace and accepts any amount although the gentleman told us that his storage tank has a 2,000 gallon capacity! We don't think he has to worry about receiving too much oil from any one individual! The Mason County Recycling Center accepts the used oil because they also use it for heating fuel, but they were the only company that did not accept synthetic oil.

Synthetic oil burns slower and causes their furnace to 'gum up'. O'Reilly Auto Parts accepts the oil, but they require the customer to sign a paper that they did bring oil in for recycling. We are sure there are other companies in Mason County accepting used oil, so if you normally deal with a particular company, give them a call to find out their policy on used oil.

In Bracken County we contacted Cummins' Auto Center near Western Hills, Bice Pro Stop in Bladeston and Morris Chevron Service in Augusta and each of these businesses will accept the clean, used motor oil, preferably in five gallon buckets. Morris' also have a separate storage tank to accept used antifreeze. Again, we are sure there are other companies in the county that accept this product, and if you know of others, please let us know as this is very useful information!

Several folks have called wanting to know when the roll-offs will be back in the county. Grant dollars fund these and Mrs. Donna Rath has once again applied, but will not know the outcome until late July. Until then, if you have large items, especially upholstered furniture and bedding, please take them to the landfill as these items must be encased in plastic for Rumpke disposal. One caller stated that she would probably burn a mattress, but it is illegal to burn such items in Kentucky. Illegal burning can result in fines of up to $25,000 per day because burning garbage emits dangerous pollutants into the atmosphere that are harmful to public health. Granted, we don't know what's in the air that we currently breathe, but we don't need to add any more toxins! As always, we urge you to RECYCLE, REUSE and REDUCE to keep God's earth clean, green and beautiful! Be seein' you - Bin & Bug.

Little League: Base Hits, not Bruises

As sure as its flowers, May treats us to the crack of the bat and the sprint to steal second. Little League's sheer fun delivers moments our kids and their parents will forever treasure.

All the more reason to ensure it's a safe experience. In fact, injuries like sore shoulders and sprained ankles are avoidable with a few precautions.

"What's important to keep in mind at this age is open and honest communication between the player and the supervising adults (coaches and parents), "observes Dr. Mark McGinnis, orthopedic surgeon at Owensboro Health Orthopedics. "The child should be able to express symptoms of fatigue or pain without feeling pressured to stay in the game or 'fight through it.'"

Some helpful reminders: Stick to guidelines for using pitchers. Shoulder and elbow injuries are common results of too much pitching. Dr. McGinnis stresses that "there are now clear guidelines for pitch counts, rest periods and even age recommendations for the types of pitches thrown." A player "should not pitch on consecutive days even if it is for two different teams with different coaches." Consult the American Sports Medicine Institute's website, www.amsi.org, for age-specific pitch count limits.

Equipment. Properly fitting batting helmets are a must—at bat, on the bases, and waiting to bat. Catchers should always wear helmets, throat guards, facemasks and full chest protectors.

Breakaway bases. When a player slides into a stationary base, the odds of ankle, foot and lower-leg injuries increase. Physicians recommend "breakaway bases" that snap on to an implanted rubber mat. These can break off when met by a sliding runner, limiting possible injuries.

AIS announces new eligibility requirement for KY State-Funded Preschool

As a result of House Bill 235, changes were made to the Kentucky State-Funded Preschool Program. A new minimum age requirement for state-funded preschool students requires an August 1st birthday instead of October 1st birthday and will take effect July 15, 2014.

If your student is eligible and enrolled in preschool by July 15th, 2014, he/she is eligible to attend preschool this year. All other children turning four (4) after August 1st will not be eligible to enroll for preschool in the 2014-15 school year.

Existing practices regarding incoming three-year olds will not change.

If you have a child turning four (4) on or before August 1st, 2014 and you are interested in them attending preschool this school year, please contact the board office at 606-756-2545 before July 15th, 2014. If you have any questions concerning the new age requirement for the upcoming school year, please contact the Preschool Department at the school at 606-756-2105 or the board office.

Beware of utility scam affecting Blue Grass Energy Members

A prepaid debit card scam is currently circulating our area targeting members of Blue Grass Energy.

"The perpetrator calls members posing as an employee of Blue Gras Energy. They inform the member they are late on their electric bill, and their service will be disconnected if not paid immediately. The caller instructs the member to purchase a prepaid debit card then call back providing the numbers from the card to pay the bill. Once the caller has this information, they are untraceable and have access to the money," said Denise Myers, Energy Solutions Manager.

It is important to note that the perpetrators have falsified their caller ID to reflect Blue Grass Energy's company name.

In brief, here's what you need to know:

- Blue Grass Energy will never require you to pay with a prepaid debit card. You may but it is never required.

- Watch for high-pressure tactics, such as a sudden threat to disconnect your service unless you make an immediate payment. Blue Grass Energy will make multiple contacts about an overdue bill before issuing a final written notice.

- If you are suspicious, contact Blue Grass Energy at 888-546-4243. DO NOT use the fake number that appears on your caller ID. Report the scam attempt to the Kentucky State Police at 1-800-222-5555.

"Sticker Shock" campaign targets underage drinking

Members of the S.T.O.P. Regional Youth Coalition from Augusta Independent High School launched "Sticker Shock" - a campaign targeting parents and other adults reminding them not to provide alcohol to underage youth. On April 23, 2014 the students, accompanied by staff of the Regional Prevention Center of Comprehend, Inc., visited local establishments that sell alcohol and placed brightly colored stickers onto actual packages of alcohol. The stickers featured information on the legal consequences of providing alcohol to minors. Posters and flyers featuring the same message were also placed onto store windows, doors and beverage coolers. The campaign took place directly prior to prom and graduation season - a time when underage drinking is more likely to occur. The students and RPC staff hope that by reminding adults of the law, less underage youth will drink and experience alcohol-related consequences, including drinking and driving crashes. The following businesses that participated were K's IGA, R's Liquor and Valero.

S.T.O.P. is a regional youth coalition, comprised of students from all of the high schools in the Buffalo Trace region. The students meet monthly and work together to plan and implement substance abuse prevention projects in their respective schools and communities.

Letters To The Editor

Urgent !

The Bracken Co. Regional Waste Water Treatment Plant (WWTP) has recently been changed to the AUGUSTA REGIONAL WWTP. We are now being told we are losing money by not applying for Grants. We need to hurry before that money is gone. Do not worry, we will have a special SEWER AUTHORITY appointed by our Mayors and Judge Executive. These appointees will then be approved by the councils and magistrates of Augusta, Brooksville, and Bracken County. Five more people on the payroll and they will take care of us!

A year ago, our urgency was we were ready for a breakdown and violations, meaning monetary fines daily. Hasn't happened. Then it was CLOPAY, their discharge was in violation. NOT so, they were just approved for five (5) more years with the same process. One of the reasons given for East end location not applicable. They stated the 201 Plan (created in 2005) dictates Regional facility. The 201 Plan is a very in depth document, but ignored by the current administrations.

ALL decisions made by the Dept. of Water or state officials are determined by facts presented to them. One erroneous fact is a great number of septic systems are in the flood plain in the Augusta area. NOT so, a large number is located in the Wellsburg area. Another erroneous fact stated by the gentleman from the Kentucky Assoc. of Counties outlining the creation of the ARSA. He said, "at least we are not going to be digging up water, gas lines, or blacktop. We will be dealing with fresh ground." His recommendation was BASED on information given to him from here.

This information is on record. Has anyone noticed it's a mile and a half from the existing old plant to the proposed new site on Second Street?

You know what they say: "Location, Location, Location Not centralized, Not cost effective going through busy utility filled 2nd Street. We need to hurry to save money. HA!

Frankfort Focus

A Legislative Perspective on the Kentucky General Assembly
State Rep. Mike Denham

With memories of the long winter now starting to fade and the Memorial Day weekend behind us, the time has come to begin planning for summer.

There certainly is no shortage of activities nearby or across the state, and their popularity can be seen in the bottom line. According to an annual study released earlier this month, Kentucky's tourism and travel industry was responsible for $12.5 billion in direct and indirect spending in 2013, which was a 2.6 percent increase over 2012. Overall, these businesses employ nearly 176,000 people.

Some of the Kentucky's key assets, of course, are our state resort parks, which are part of a system that features 49 overall. Money is limited in the upcoming two-year budget, but I'm proud that the General Assembly was able to set aside $2 million extra for park improvements.

For those wanting to take in more of the outdoors, Kentucky also has close to 900,000 acres of national forests, more than 50 lakes open for boating or fishing and 12,000 miles of trails.

For those wanting to travel around the state, meanwhile, there are several milestone events being celebrated this year.

In southeastern Kentucky, for example, descendants of Daniel Boone's family will join with many others next month to re-enact that pioneer's early work to make the Cumberland Gap more accessible to settlers nearly 240 years ago.

Both the Belle of Louisville and the Governor's Mansion turn 100 this year. The Belle is the world's oldest Mississippi-style steamboat still in operation, and the mansion is one of just a handful of executive residences across the country featuring public tours. Its predecessor, located less than two miles away, is worth visiting as well, since it pre-dates the opening of the White House.

Kentucky has also garnered a lot of attention for its outdoor theaters. The Pioneer Playhouse in Danville turns 65 this year, and two of its famous alumni include actors Lee Majors and John Travolta, who appeared there when he was 15.

The Kentucky Shakespeare Festival and "Stephen Foster - the Musical" have also been around for decades. The former, located in Louisville, is the country's oldest free festival dedicated to the famous playwright, and the latter, based in Bardstown, celebrates the composer of our most famous song, "My Old Kentucky Home."

Another famous "home" worth taking in is the restaurant where Colonel Sanders perfected his original recipe for Kentucky Fried Chicken. It's located in Corbin and has been remodeled to mirror what it looked like when he manned the kitchen in the 1940s.

Kentucky is used to having the eyes of the world on it in May, when the Kentucky Derby is run, but a couple of major events are planned for August as well. This year, the PGA Championship, one of professional golf's four majors, will take place at Valhalla in Louisville, and three years from now, on August 21, 2017, Hopkinsville will be the focal point worldwide for a major solar eclipse.

If you would like to know more about some of the events I've mentioned, the state's tourism website is a great place to start. It can be found at www.kentuckytourism.com. There are many tourism activities locally as well across Fleming, Mason, Bracken and Robertson counties. You can contact tourism officials in each to learn more about what they have to offer.

Should you need to contact me for any reason, please don't hesitate to write to me at Room 329E, Capitol Annex, 702 Capitol Avenue, Frankfort KY 40601; or you can email me at Denham@lrc.ky.gov. To leave a message for me or for any legislator, call toll-free at 800-372-7181. For those with a hearing impairment, the number is 800-896-0305.

I hope to hear from you soon.

*Ann Bare addressed the court regarding the “Advertiser” being thrown out at vacant homes, graveyards, and intersections of roadways and being left to pile up. This is considered litter. Solid Waste Coordinators have been notified and involved at this point. County Attorney, Mike Clark, advised that he would send a letter regarding the issue on behalf of the Fiscal Court. Ann Bare presented photos and also states that she has cleaned up several on her own and she doesn’t like for the county to be littered. She and husband, Marvin Bare, have been donating to the City of Germantown to have someone clean up these papers in the city. She appreciates any support on this from the Fiscal Court.

Roads & Projects Updates

* Judge Bush advised the court that the Wrangling Run projects has been started. The Road Department has been cleaning culverts and patching roads. The State is coming to look at Roads with Judge Bush and Stacey Florer regarding paving roads in the county.

NIEMEIER THANKS VOTERS

My fellow citizens, I would like to take this opportunity to say “THANK YOU” to all the citizens that voted for me in the primary election to continue as your next Sheriff. There were several citizens/friends that campaigned for me during this election and to whom I am very grateful. Your time, dedication and work securing votes for me is very appreciated.

I believe that I have picked up all the yard signs that I had put out during this election, if you have a sign that I have missed, please do not throw it away, give me a call and I will come and pick it up. I would like to thank all those that let me put a sign up on their property.

I will continue to work hard and I will do everything in my power to make Bracken County a SAFER place for our kids, grandkids, family and friends to live, work and play. Again a big “THANKS” for your support and vote.

Time to think about Coggins test for horses

*Dr. Bob Coleman,
UK Equine Specialist
Submitted by: David Appelman,
CEA for ANR*

From 4-H shows to Keeneland and Churchill Downs racing, spring ushers in a wide variety of horse activities in Kentucky. It’s also a good time to think about updating your horse’s Coggins test.

A Coggins test is done to determine if your horse has equine infectious anemia, more commonly called swamp fever. EIA is a serious condition, and horses living in or entering Kentucky, must get tested every year.

All horses must be tested using an official test approved by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Your local veterinarian can help you get your horses tested.

For more information on Coggins testing or other equine-related topics, contact the Bracken County Co-operative Extension Service at 735-2141.

May is Motorcycle Safety Month

Provided by: Neider Reynolds, Coordinator
Bracken County Emergency Management

General Guidelines for Riding a Motorcycle Safely Be Visible

- Remember that motorists often have trouble seeing motorcycles and reacting in time.
- Make sure your headlight works and is on day and night.
- Use reflective strips or decals on your clothing and on your motorcycle.
- Be aware of the blind spots cars and trucks have.
- Flash your brake light when you are slowing down and before stopping.
- If a motorist doesn’t see you, don’t be afraid to use your horn.
- Dress Safely
 - Wear a quality helmet and eye protection.
 - Wear bright clothing and a light colored helmet.
 - Wear leather or other thick, protective clothing.
 - Choose long sleeves and pants, over-the-ankle boots, and gloves.
 - Remember - the only thing between you and the road is your protective gear.
- Apply Effective Mental Strategies

- Constantly search the road for changing conditions.
- Give yourself space and time to respond to other motorists’ actions.
- Give other motorists’ time and space to respond to you.
- Use lane positioning to be seen; ride in the part of the lane where you are the most visible.
- Watch for turning vehicles.
- Signal your next move in advance.
- Avoid weaving between lanes.
- Pretend you are invisible, and ride extra defensively.
- Don’t ride when you are tired or under the influence of alcohol or other drugs.
- Know and follow the rules of the road, and stick to the speed limit.
- Remember: Give yourself space. People driving cars often just don’t see motorcycles. Even when drivers do see you, chances are they’ve never been on a motorcycle and can’t properly judge your speed.

Sports in Kentucky by Bob Watkins

Lists. Business Week and Time boast 100, Sports Illustrated's 35 is a pansy

Lists. We love 'em. With Indianapolis 500 in the rear view mirror, the Kentucky-Indiana basketball all-star game at Transy is a month away and eight weeks until Baseball's all-star break, few things are as attention-getting and intriguing in sports than a list. A juicy one, don't you think?

A list that make fans curious, furious or laughing out loud and bellowing "c'mon, man! Get serious!" is a symphony to magazine salesmen.

Business Week has its 100 most powerful people in sports. ... Forbes Magazine publishes Forbes 400 wealthiest people in America. ... Time Magazine's 100 most influential people in the world.

But Sports Illustrated's list last week became all the rage: The Most Disliked People in Sports.

35 names. 35? What a pansy.

To choose 35 bad boys in sports is like Dick Vitale describing a diaper dandy with no arm flail and no grrreat(s).

I suspect SI editors chose a modest number because it leaves readers time to laugh, then bark "gimme a break, man!" then threaten to cancel a subscription or, best of all, counter with his/her own list.

The savvy among us know any list of people in sports we love to hate must be triple digits. This is no pamphlet.

I would ask SI, where was Steve Spurrier? Johnny Manziel? New York radio talker Mike Francesca? What Dislike list could be legitimate without Donald Sterling's girlfriend, at least one NBA trash talker, Harvey Updike (tree killer at Auburn), Billy Clyde Gillespie, A.J. Pierzynski, Michigan's Fab Five, or Bill Walton? And, how about a jab-or-two for old lightning rod standards Bob Knight and Billy Packer?

Instead, SI gave us Munster Donald Sterling at the top, followed by a bunch of usual suspects, rich team owners and commissioners, NFL, NHL and NCAA, to go with whoever is coaching Alabama's football team, and one woman. One woman.

SI editors would have us believe in all sports Rutgers director of athletics Julie Hermann is the only uh, witch? I think this is capitulation to, "Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned."

Pansies.

More singles on SI's list? One Tiger (Woods), a sports writer (Skip Bayless), a bully (Richie Incognito) and, from across the world of basketball literally, one college basketball coach. John Calipari.

Kentucky's coach made the D-List with this capsule. "... wins and recruits wherever he goes. He has also left a trail of NCAA violations in his wake at UMass and Memphis. His position at the forefront of college basketball's One-and-Done era of recruiting have made him reviled among hoops traditionalists."

Reaction? Calipari said via twitter: "Heard I made the SI Not So Liked List w/Saban, Belichick & one spot below Tiger. What's that tell me? I probably shouldn't run for office."

Here in Kentucky what it tells us ...

✓ Calipari can spin Saban, Belichick and the like, but his name is on a list with confessed lying cheats Lance Armstrong, Alex Rodriguez and Ryan Braun.

✓ Not-so-liked (says he) and reviled (says SI) are not the same.

✓ And, we're probably no Christmas card from Cal to the guys at Sports Illustrated this year. And, no exclusive interviews either.

So, The List. Good fun. Good talking points at the coffee shop.

Think I'll make one too. Call it, Best Talkers in Sports.

SANITY AT UK

University of Kentucky President Eli Capilouto earned high marks for fiscal sanity last week when he rendered a thumbs down to spending millions on the Rupp Arena renovation.

The Lexington Center Board tried to spin public opinion and put pressure on Capilouto, telling media a no-go to the $351 million renovation and convention center would cost Lexington millions of dollars.

"At this time, there is not sufficient public support for committing over $350 million in state, city and other funds to a basketball arena and convention center when there are so many well-recognized educational, economic, retirement and health care needs across Lexington and the Commonwealth of Kentucky," Capilouto wrote.

Refreshing, a university man who's vision is reaching for higher academic heavens, saying NO to politicians and ball industry at University of Kentucky-at-Euclid.

COLLEGE SOFTBALL

University of Kentucky softball team (49-17) upset No. 3 UCLA 7-1 in game three of the NCAA Los Angeles Super Regional at the weekend. The Lady Wildcats became UK's first ever qualified for the Women's College Softball World Series.

Coach Rachel Lawson: "this is our third Super Regional, so we've been close enough to taste it, but for it to actually be a reality is very special. For it to happen on such a storied softball field, where college softball was pretty much invented, it feels pretty good that we're advancing to Oklahoma City."

PARTING SHOT

Worst jobs in America today? A survey by CareerCast says, the one job worse than newspaper reporter, is lumberjack.

"... work outside in bitter cold and blazing heat, running heavy, dangerous machinery. Lumberjacks deal with massive trees and logs that can slip and cause serious injury."

Sounds terrible.

Third worst job today, enlisted military.

And so it goes.

Farmers in Bracken/Mason/Robertson can sign-up for the Livestock Indemnity Program (LIP)

The Bracken/Mason/Robertson County Farm Service Agency is currently conducting sign-up for the Livestock Indemnity Program (LIP) to eligible producers who suffered losses in calendar year 2012.

LIP provides compensation to eligible livestock producers who have suffered livestock death losses in excess of normal mortality due to adverse weather and attacks by animals reintroduced into the wild by the federal government or protected by federal law, including wolves and avian predators. LIP payments are equal to 75 percent of the market value of the applicable livestock on the day before the date of death of the livestock as determined by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Eligible livestock includes: Beef cattle, Dairy cattle, Bison, Poultry, Sheep, Swine, and horses and other livestock as determined by the Secretary of Agriculture

Applicants must provide adequate proof that the eligible livestock deaths occurred as a direct result of an eligible adverse weather event for which benefits are being requested. The quantity and kind of livestock that died as a direct result of the eligible disaster event may be documented by: purchase records, veterinarian records, bank or other loan documents, rendering truck receipts or certificates, Federal Emergency Management Agency records, National Guard records, written contracts, production records, records assembled for tax purposes, property tax records, private insurance documents, and similar documents.

If you feel that you are included in one of these categories, please contact the Bracken/Mason/Robertson County FSA Office located at 1925 Old Main Street, Maysville, KY 41056, (606) 759 5763, for additional information.

Adopt-a-Highway groups ready to 'summer scrub' roadsides

Summer Scrub Week in Bracken County is June 2-8

The Transportation Cabinet (KYTC) announces that Adopt-a-Highway Summer Scrub Week is June 2-8. District 6 Adopt-A-Highway groups in Bracken County will be out making a difference along state highways in their communities.

"The Kentucky Transportation Cabinet appreciates the efforts of our Adopt-a-Highway volunteers who help keep our highways and communities beautiful and litter-free," Transportation Secretary Mike Hancock said.

More than 700 groups participate in Kentucky's Adopt-a-Highway program, which was established in 1988. Volunteers clean approximately 4,800 miles of roadside annually, setting an example of responsible environmental stewardship.

Adopt-A-Highway groups in Bracken County are: Generations Club, Horizon Homemakers Club, and Milford Christian Church.

The Adopt-a-Highway program promotes public environmental awareness and supports tourism. The program also creates a partnership between citizens, community and government, and establishes a sense of pride in the Bluegrass State.

GET INVOLVED!

How can you contribute to the community, make a difference, send a message and educate others – all while having fun with friends and family? Join Kentucky's Adopt-a-Highway Program. By taking responsibility for an area roadway, you set an example in your community.

The environment is everyone's responsibility. Adopt-a-Highway provides the opportunity to be a part of the solution. Each year, the KYTC spends about $5 million and 200,000 worker hours to remove 96,000 bags of highway litter. Adopt-a-Highway volunteers help save thousands of taxpayer dollars and demonstrate that a clean environment is a shared responsibility.

Any permanently established business, association, community or public organization, or government entity can adopt a stretch of highway. A wide range of groups throughout Kentucky now participate, including home-maker clubs, Boy Scout and Girl Scout troops, high school organizations, service clubs, veterans, college fraternities and sororities, sports teams and church groups, among others.

Volunteers adopt two-mile sections of highway under a two-year, renewable contract with the Transportation Cabinet.

Adopt-a-Highway coordinators can explain the fundamentals of the program to volunteer groups, work with group members in locating an available highway, and keep them notified of news and upcoming events.

Litter pickups are held at least four times per year or as many times as necessary to keep adopted areas reasonably litter-free. The Cabinet coordinates three annual clean-up efforts.

HOW DO I JOIN?

Groups interested in becoming members of the Adopt-a-Highway Program can find details and district coordinator information at <http://adopt-a-highway.ky.gov/>. Safety guidelines are provided to volunteers and should be reviewed prior to each cleanup.

The Adopt-a-Highway coordinators help volunteers get in touch with the county maintenance crew superintendent to arrange warning sign placement on the date of pickup. Trash bags and safety vests can be obtained at each state maintenance facility, and litter removal is provided by the state highway crews.

For more information, visit <http://adopt-a-highway.ky.gov/> or contact area coordinator Nancy Wood at 859-341-2700 or e-mail nancy.wood@ky.gov. In Bracken County contact Solid Waste Coordinators Tommy and Caroline Jefferson at 606-735-9960.

"Farmer of the Year" applications now accepted, due July 1st

The 2014 Kentucky Farm Bureau (KFB) "Farmer of the Year" application process is now open, and the organization is seeking the Commonwealth's finest nominees for this prestigious award.

KFB initiated a "Farmer of the Year" awards program as a way to recognize its members for their commitment to excellence in agriculture, efficiency in farming practices, sound financial management and outstanding leadership in their county Farm Bureau and other civic organizations. Eligibility and guidelines are included with the application, and can be downloaded at kyfb.com/federation/. All applications must be postmarked by July 1.

Entries will be narrowed down to the top three applicants over the summer, and finalists will be announced in mid-August. Judges will visit the three finalists in mid-September to conduct interviews and see their operations in action. The winner will be announced at the organization's 2014 state annual meeting in Louisville on December 5.

KFB's "Farmer of the Year" will receive $1,000 from Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation and will be presented with a commemorative award during the organization's annual meeting in December. State finalists will receive $250 from Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation.
